

INFECTION PREVENTION UPDATE FOR RESIDENTIAL CARE ADELAIDE, MONDAY 31 AUGUST 2015 9.00AM – 4.30PM

This update is intended for residential care staff who assume the role and responsibility for infection prevention and management in their facility and/or who are proactive in minimising infection risk in susceptible residents and staff/volunteers. The seminar will further equip Link/Liaison/Resource/Portfolio holders and others with the knowledge, problem solving skills and critical thinking ability to provide leadership and act as a role model to other staff, volunteers and visitors with regard to infection prevention and control principles and practices.

UPDATE TOPICS

Risk management and infection prevention

Application of transmission-based precautions in the RCF setting

Emerging pathogens and environmental cleaning/disinfection

Mobile equipment and implications for infection prevention

Spot the food hazard!

Animals in healthcare

Assessment and management of UTIs

Hand hygiene: 'Bare below the elbows'

Note: The program is a guide and may be subject to change or additional content dependent on current issues

EDUCATOR:

This update will be presented by well known Infection Prevention Consultant, Megan Reilly. Megan is a registered general nurse with a Certificate in Infection Control obtained from Fremantle Hospital (1988). She obtained her Bachelor of Nursing at Edith Cowan University in 1999 and Masters in Health Science (Infection Control) at Griffith University in 2002 with first class honors. In addition, Megan has a Certificate IV in Assessment and Workplace Training, Immunisation Competency Certificate and is an accredited credentialed infection control professional (CICP).

Megan has 27 years' experience working in the area of infection prevention and management in the acute, community, residential and office-based health care setting. Her business Hands-On Infection Control provides a variety of infection prevention consultancy, education and immunisation services to corporate, health and human service organisations in metropolitan, rural and remote Australia.

Megan enjoys sharing her passion for infection prevention and management in a meaningful and entertaining way to her audiences.
